

RETIREMENT NEW ENGLAND STYLE

Air-conditioned 5 bay garage with hot tub and servants quarters above.

A New England retirement made the perfect fit for a fortune 500, former corporate CEO, and GAS COOLING the perfect system.

A challenging design made the Robur gas chillers a perfect match. They adapted easily to the multiple cooling zones by using a variety of air handlers. Chilled water was also piped under ground to a 2-way storage system so the house could draw on this reserve when cooling was needed.

Fifteen tons of cooling along with an individual 3-ton unit to service the garage area and servants quarters was installed. If additional cooling is ever needed, the system can easily be added to by the installation of another chiller.

A GAS generator also ensures power availability in emergencies.
